Rioting In Philadelphia Injuries 50

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rioters roamed through the Negro section of Philadelphia's north side Friday night and into the pre-dawn hours today, smashing windows, looting stores and attacking policemen. The disturbances covered a four-mile square area, where perhaps two thirds of the city's approximately 600,000 Negroes live.

At least 50 persons were injured, including 20 policemen. More than 30 persons were arrested.

Dawn lit up a bizarre scene. Negroes were standing in the streets as far as the eye could see. There were many women and children. Every store in view, during a tour of the area, had smashed front windows.

Broken glass was everywhere. Every now and then a person, usually a teen-ager, could be seen running from a store, carrying merchandise.

A police car had been turned upside down. A few blocks further a taxicab was overturned, its fire-blackened interior still smoldering.

The disturbances began with a comparatively minor incident. An automobile stalled at an intersection. Police were called to remove it.

When they arrived, the driver refused to let them take the car away. The man's wife punched an officer, according to police. Bystanders joined in, kicking both policemen on the detail. They radioed for help.

Eventually 500 policemen — wearing steel helmets, carrying night sticks and revolvers, which they kept in holsters — were on the scene. Police Commissioner Howard Leary took personal control.

The main focal point was at Broad St. and Columbia Ave., near Temple University and some 25 blocks from downtown Philadelphia. Broad is one of the city's major arteries.

The disturbances broke out sporadically at perhaps as many as 20 different points during the night, starting shortly after the original incident, which involved Negro policemen and Negro participants.

At 3 A.M., Commissioner Leary said "the situation definitely is not under control" and this state of affairs continued until around 5 A.M.

Negro leaders hurried to the scene, many of them called out of bed by city officials. They tried to calm the crowd and help police disperse the crowd.

Stanley Branche, head of the militant Committee for Freedom Now of suburban Hester, said he was coincidentally passing through the area when he noticed one of the early disturbances on a street corner. Branche said:

"All Hell was breaking loose. I went up to Deputy Police Commissioner Frank Rizzo and told him, 'let me talk to the people. I did for three hours, as I walked up and down the streets.'"

Branche, who has led many demonstrations himself in Hester and Ambidge, Md., said bricks and bottles were hurled at him. He said his left leg was injured, not seriously.

Conservation Work Is Good

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., told the Arkansas Association of Soil Conservation District Board Supervisors here Thursday that Arkansas does not lack when it comes to soil conservation work.

The state ranks in the top three in almost all categories, Mills said.

Local soil conservation districts need condemnation authority to speed up their work in land acquisition to keep Arkansas high in the work, he said. "Easements and rights of way are needed in soil conservation projects with reimbursements for costs and legal costs from state funds," Mills said.

Mills said increased state funds would help comprehensive watershed planning.

He also said, under questioning by newsmen, that it was not noteworthy that he did not attend the 34th Democratic National Convention. He said he had attended only two since he had been in office.

Unique Line Taken by Democrats

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in accepting the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominations, have taken a line unique in this generation.

Without saying it flatly, they made the point that their fight in this campaign is not so much with the Republican party as with the supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

In doing this they sought to make the Democratic party — by calling it a "people's party" and a "national party" — a rallying point for all anti-Goldwater forces in or out of the Republican party.

But if Johnson and Humphrey follow the technique they used Thursday night at the Democratic convention, Johnson will be making lofty speeches without direct name-calling while Humphrey tries to hit Goldwater between the eyes.

Johnson was mild, talking of the needs and the glorious possibilities of the future and never once mentioned either the Republicans or Goldwater by name. He presented himself as a man with his eyes on the future.

The more earthy Humphrey talked of the here and now, in this case the fight against Goldwater whom he named by name. Like Johnson, Humphrey was gentle on the Republicans as a party.

Item by item he mentioned major programs approved by Congress in the past few years in which he said Democrats and Republicans joined forces while Goldwater disapproved.

Just how long Johnson retains his aloof and above-the-strife technique may depend on how soon, and to what degree, Goldwater starts to butt heads with him directly. Goldwater has not been reluctant to do this in the past.

But while Johnson refrained from directly mentioning Goldwater by name, he made statements which could not be interpreted as anything but swipes at the Arizona senator.

"The contest today," Johnson said, "is not between liberals and conservatives, party and party, platform and platform. It is between those who see what can be and those who want only to maintain the status quo."

He pitched his speech on the theme that the nation has a lot of unfinished business — particularly programs in the social welfare field — and that under his leadership they would be fulfilled.

Then, building up to the oblique assault on Goldwater, Johnson said that for 30 years men of both parties have "built a solid foundation for our present prosperity."

He added: "Too many have worked too hard and too long to see this threatened now by policies which promise to undo all we have done together."

Character of Airport Changes

Robert Gladney, his Cessna 172

Pete Martin, Chief Mechanic

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"The basic character of the Hope Municipal Airport has changed in the last five years," said airport manager Robert Gladney, who has had the facility under lease since October 1963. He explained, "For a number of years after the city of Hope acquired the government built airport it was used principally by those engaged in 'sports flying,' or flying merely for pleasure."

But during the 1960's a significant change was wrought, and local flying has moved from a "hobby affair" to predominately business activity. There are 14 planes kept in the hangar, and they belong to people from Hope and Nashville. Business concerns with planes include Corn Belt Hatcheries, Hawkins and Associates, Klipsch and Associates, and one owned jointly by Mountaire Poultry Company, M & M Leasing Company, Dr. Lynn Harris, and Dr. Jim McKenzie.

Nashville pilots with planes there include Charles Turner, Bill Millwood, Bob Reno, and Richard Musgrave. Individual owners from Hope are George Robinson, James McLarty, Olin Whitley, and Robert Gladney. Myron Dugger has two planes here. Gladney has recently acquired his late model Cessna 172, and he has it available for rent or charter.

The local airport did a large maintenance business last year, illustrating its active operation. Pete Martin has been the chief mechanic for many years and is most capable. He and Mrs. Martin maintain residence at the airport, and he is on duty 24 hours a day.

The facilities at the airport are good with three 5,500 foot runways that are 150 feet wide. Earlier this month a unicom system was installed which provides radio-telephone communication between the planes and ground.

What about those who would like to learn how to fly? Is flight training available at the local airport? Yes, Robert Gladney is accredited flight instructor and commercial pilot and would be happy to give you any information you require about such lessons.

"If you are healthy enough to drive a car, you are healthy enough to fly a plane," Gladney said. As for age, you must be at least 16 before being allowed to solo and at least 17 before earning a private pilot's license and the privilege of carrying passengers.

The interview with Robert Gladney was cut short when he received an emergency call that required a "plane answer," and he took off in that Cessna 172 mentioned earlier. Though it will literally be a "flying trip," our press deadline won't wait even that long. We will give you more information about this next week.

Says Convention Not Run Well

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — The Democrats "can not be expected to run the country well when they obviously can not even run a Democratic convention," the Republican candidate for vice president said today.

Rep. William E. Miller commented in summing up his views of the opposition party's convention, which ended Thursday night.

"They weren't even able to remove from the hall people who had no right to be there," Miller said.

He held a news conference while standing atop a baggage cart at Olean Airport, after flying in to begin a 13-hour campaign swing.

Earlier, he described his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey as "sort of a raving liberal."

Miller will open his campaign formally next Saturday, "Bill Miller Day," at the Niagara County fairgrounds near his home town of Lockport, N.Y.

Storm Hunting Satellite in Operation

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A Nimbus satellite shot into orbit today on a storm-hunting mission with cameras designed to take 2,000 pictures a day.

The 830-pound spacecraft roared into the sky on the nose of a 91-foot-tall Thor-Agena booster rocket at 1 a.m.

The new Nimbus is equipped with television cameras similar to those that transmitted Ranger 7's closeup pictures of the moon back to earth.

The satellite went into an elliptical orbit rather than the circular orbit at which it was aimed, the civilian space agency reported in Washington.

It has a low point of 262 miles and a high of 578 as it circles the earth in a polar orbit, rather than the 575-mile high orbit planned.

Space agency spokesmen said the change in the orbit apparently resulted from a premature cutoff of the second burning period of the booster rocket.

The Nimbus still will be able to take satisfactory cloud pictures and the deviation is not great enough to prevent successful achievement of the objectives of the first Nimbus launch.

Pictures will be taken of most parts of the cloud cover at least once a day. Infared picture gear will permit night photography which is expected to improve forecasters' ability to spot storms far at sea.

But only Western weathermen will benefit. Nimbus is not designed to transmit pictures over Soviet territory.

Survives Plane Crash; Brother, Father Killed

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — A courageous Chicago woman, survivor of a plane crash that took the lives of her father and brother, was brought to safety in a seven-hour horseback ride during a snowstorm Friday.

Miss Roberta Kowaczek, 25, a buyer for a Chicago store, spent two nights in the rugged mountains near Yellowstone National Park.

"I don't know how she got through it," said Paul S. Roth, district ranger for the Shoshone National Forest and one of her rescuers.

Miss Kowaczek was piloting her brother, Peter, 19, and their father, Richard Kowaczek, 51, both of Chicago, on a fishing vacation in a rented plane when they crashed Wednesday at 11,500 feet altitude during heavy winds. The plane went down in the Silver Tip Basin, a few miles from the eastern edge of Yellowstone.

Miss Kowaczek, who received her pilot's license a month ago, kept the bely of the plane up as it hit the peak. The maneuver probably saved her life, rescuers agreed.

She was knocked unconscious and awoke to find her brother and father fatally injured. Roth said it appeared the teen-ager never moved after the impact but that the father may have lived long enough to crawl out of the wreckage.

The tiny brunette, suffering from a concussion and cuts and bruises, melted snow for water, dragged some picnic supplies from the plane and tried to make a shelter of a suitcase.

The first night of near-freezing temperatures passed with search efforts thwarted because of wind.

A search pilot spotted Miss Kowaczek Thursday, and thought he saw another survivor as well. Sleeping bags, food and other survival gear were dropped, but she apparently couldn't find the food. The second night passed.

When the rescuers, led by Sheriff Harley Kinkade, arrived, they found her holding an unopened can of soda pop. She asked Kinkade who he was and then asked for a can opener. She said she had been able to find no more patches of snow to melt.

After waiting in vain for a helicopter to buck the bad weather, the party started down — three men riding, the fourth man on foot and leading a horse ridden by Miss Kowaczek.

"We kept her talking all the way out to keep her spirits up," Roth said. "Once she started to break down, but only for a few seconds. Then we sort of kidded her out of it and she said 'I'll be okay now.'"

A party went to the area today to remove the bodies.

Joins Foreign Service, Sees Only U.S.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Join the Foreign Service and see the U.S.A.?

It's working out that way for 42-year-old Richard G. Johnson, a senior U.S. Foreign Service officer who left with his wife and two children Thursday on a motor trip to San Francisco sponsored by the State Department.

Announcing the tour, the department said the only cost for Johnson, who is home on leave, will be for food, highway toll charges and incidentals.

Along the way, while renewing his acquaintance with this country, he will make speeches explaining the work of the Foreign Service.

The major costs are being borne by the Wally Byam Foundation and the Ford Motor Co. The foundation is furnishing the department with three house trailers for two years and Ford is providing three automobiles to tow the trailers at an annual cost of $1.00. The foundation is supplying gasoline and oil for the cars, the State Department said.

In San Francisco, Johnson will turn the car and trailer over to another Foreign Service officer who will drive his family on the return trip east while the Johnsons will fly back to Washington to prepare for a new assignment, in Brussels, Belgium.

Showers Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North and West Arkansas will get scattered thundershowers this weekend, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today, and some cooler temperatures, but the outlook for the southern portion is for little change.

The bureau said a cold front should move slowly into northern Arkansas with some showers or thundershowers today and Saturday night or Sunday as a warm front, the bureau reported.

Maximum daytime temperatures from 82 to 94 were forecast for Saturday, with overnight low readings ranging from 64 to 74.

Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 78 at Fayetteville to 91 at El Dorado and Texarkana. Overnight low readings ranged from 61 at Fayetteville to 75 at Texarkana.

NFO Clashes With Others Selling Stock

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Sporadic clashes by National Farmers Organization members with other farmers trying to deliver their livestock to market in the Midwest have been accompanied by one court restraining order against NFO demonstrators.

The first such action in Indiana was taken Thursday by Producers Stockyards of Montpelier, Ind., when that buyer of meat animals obtained a temporary order in Blackford County Circuit Court.

The stockyard also sued for $50,000 damages, claiming NFO pickets threatened "violence and disorder."

The NFO holding action in 23 states entered the 10th day today, winding up the first market week in which short deliveries had caused prices to rise only to fall back later with the leveling off of receipts at major market terminals.

At Muncie, Ind., Wayne Miller, a national director for NFO, denied charges by the Montpelier firm and said the restraining order would "just add fuel to the fire."

An estimated 300 to 400 NFO sympathizers staged a yelling, jeering demonstration at Waukon, Iowa, where a Farm Bureau Service Company, FS Services, Inc., scheduled a livestock auction at a marketing center.

Sheriff's officers, Waukon police and Iowa highway patrolmen stood by during the noisy, two-hour demonstration. Auction officials said it interfered with proceedings, attended by about 200 other farmers. No arrests were made.

Marketing center officials said about 90 head of cattle were sold at the auction, about one fifth the normal number.

Spokesmen for NFO national headquarters at Corning, Iowa, said they have pledged cooperation with law enforcement officers and have urged NFO units everywhere to refrain from any violence.

The NFO seeks to have livestock buyers to sign contracts giving farmers basic prices of $32.45 a hundredweight on cattle, $22.75 on hogs and $29.45 a hundredweight on sheep. These prices are well below current levels.

Attempts to prevent livestock going through buying stations have been reported this week in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Indiana and Kentucky.

No Incident in School Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Several Negro pupils enrolled without incident at Fuller High School south of here Thursday.

Supt. E. F. Dunn was at the Democratic National Convention. His aides declined to release information about the Negro's applications and enrollment.

Dunn had made it plain that the Pulaski County Rural School District, of which Fuller is a part, intends to obey the new civil rights law. The district has not announced a policy of desegregation.

Dr. Oanh In Command of S. Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a surprise move after two days of bloody rioting, a Harvard-educated economist, Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, took temporary command of troubled South Viet Nam today as the nation's acting premier.

Oanh, 45, told a crowded news conference he had a mandate to rule for two months as head of a caretaker regime.

Speaking in fluent, colloquial English, Oanh said Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh is still South Viet Nam's premier but is now "sick" and recovering at the mountain resort of Dalat.

The surprise announcement came only a few hours after government troops cracked down on armed rioters who had brought Saigon close to civil war between Buddhists and Roman Catholics.

The two days of mob rule left at least nine dead and scores injured.

Oanh had served since Jan. 30 as premier Khanh's deputy premier for finance, but he was never seriously regarded as a contender for the top job.

There were strong signs of increasing American involvement in the Vietnamese government. "I cannot see how cooperation between our two governments could be any closer than it has been," Oanh said.

Oanh said the nation still is ruled by the triumvirate of Khanh, Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem and Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Asked if the triumvirate would be likely to overrule any of his decisions, he said:

"I don't think they will want to overrule us, and I don't think we will want to be overruled."

More Pictures of the Moon Are Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration released 200 more of the 4,316 Ranger 7 pictures of the moon today.

To the layman they looked about the same as those made public a few hours after the spacecraft crashed into the moon July 31, taking photographs up to impact.

There were craters and dots and circles and soft-textured level areas. They could well have been cuspids of a breaky fast cereal bubbling a warming pot.

But to the eyes of NASA's lunar programs director, Dr. Oran W. Nicks, and of Dr. Gerard Kuiper, lunar expert from the University of Arizona, they told much about the surface upon which Apollo spacecraft may be landing within this decade.

And to Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., they represented triumph over many obstacles in the development of a functioning Ranger spacecraft.

The experts timed the release of additional Ranger shots with a NASA headquarters news conference designed to interpret the films.

After its 68½ hour journey to the area of the moon, Ranger 7 switched on its equipment for the final quarter-hour in which the shutters of the six television cameras clicked more than 4,000 times.

Kuiper said the experimenters would gladly have settled for 2,000 usable photographs of the lunar surface.

Instead, he said, they got 4,316 of such good detail that it will take three years to evaluate them thoroughly.

One of the early television pictures, taken 15 minutes and six seconds before impact at an altitude of 1,163 miles, showed an area 260 miles wide.

Kuiper identified in that picture the craters Arzachel, Alphonsus and Guericke, and a small part of the huge crater Ptolemaeus.

He said the picture was unusual because earth-based telescopes were unable to see into the craters on the right side of the picture—Arzachel, Alphonsus and Ptolemaeus—at as low an angle as did Ranger.

2 Seek Seat Spicer Has Vacated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Republicans gathered today for their state convention with Warren Liebong of Pine Bluff and John Paul Hammerschmidt of Harrison seeking the state chairmanship to be vacated by William Spicer.

The convention Saturday was expected to be a harmonious rally boosting Winthrop Rockefeller's candidacy for governor. Spicer reiterated today that he would not attend the convention and would therefore not seek re-election as state chairman.

He said he would not attend because he had planned a trip with his family today and Saturday.

Spicer said the convention originally had been set for Thursday and Friday and he said Rockefeller had changed the dates to Friday night and Saturday. Spicer said he would have attended if the dates hadn't been changed.

Spicer and Rockefeller have been at odds for some months over operation of the state party.

Hammerschmidt said today that Spicer's opposition amounted to a "splinter group" and was not significant in state party affairs. "I think this is all over now," he said.

Liebong and Hammerschmidt are state executive committee members. Hammerschmidt also is state party treasurer and finance chairman. Liebong ran for Congress in the 4th District in 1962 and lost to Oren Harris. Both are friends of Rockefeller.

Leaders at Convention Optimistic

By LARRY OSIUS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Democratic leaders are leaving this convention city expressing optimism—and some caution—about the party's chances in the November election.

Some admit to worry over the possibility of a white "backlash" against Negro demonstrations and the Civil Rights Act.

That is particularly true among leaders from Southern states. Several from that area could see the Johnson-Humphrey ticket's prospects as no better than even, if that much.

And some of the Southerners expect local and state candidates to run separately from the national ticket.

Of the leaders of 37 states contacted by The Associated Press during the convention, 18 placed their states solidly in the Johnson-Humphrey corner in November. They are Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Democratic leaders in 17 other states—including some usually Republican ones—figure they have a good chance to win, or at least their best in several years.

These are Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming.

The states in which the Democratic chances were rated at no better than even—or were not rated—are Nebraska, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia.

Asked what might cause them the most trouble in the election, leaders from 12 states, including

Jefferson County Republican Committee, in a meeting Thursday night. He told the group that there was talk of making the state chairmanship a full-time job.

Roy Mitchell of Hot Springs, party vice chairman, was expected to conduct the convention in Spicer's absence.

Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma's first Republican governor, will speak to the convention at noon Saturday. Rockefeller will speak at 10:40 a.m.

Other speakers will include Jerry Hinchshaw of Springdale, candidate for Congress in the 3rd District; Travis Beeson, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Charles Watson, candidate for secretary of state.

The state Central Committee was to meet tonight to certify delegates to the convention and prepare the roll call.

The state party platform is to be adopted in a Saturday afternoon session.

Spicer, of Fort Smith, said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press that he had enjoyed his term as chairman despite the rift with Rockefeller.

"I have enjoyed the opportunity to have served my party for the past two years and I'll be the first to admit things have been somewhat hectic from time to time," Spicer said.

"All in all, I have not changed one bit the principles I had when I took office a year and a half ago," he added.

Jury Seated in Murder Trial

MCGEEHEE, Ark. (AP)—Eleven men and a woman were seated here Thursday as the first-degree murder trial of James Surridge of McGeehee began in circuit court here.

He is charged in the shooting of Norman Dollar, 73, at a motel here last July 9. Dollar, who owned the motel, was shot in the back of the head in the room he lived in at the motel.

The jury was qualified for the death penalty by Prosecutor E. W. Brockman.

Jury selection consumed all of the trial time Thursday. Eighteen members of the panel were excused because they said they opposed the death penalty.

Arkansan Dies in Plane Crash

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Allen B. DeLamar, 21, formerly of Arkadelphia, Ark., was killed here Thursday when the plane in which he was riding flipped over and crashed at Cessna Aircraft Co. airfield.

DeLamar was a test engineer for Cessna. He and Richard E. Rhoads, 31, the pilot, who also was killed, were flying an experimental model of Cessna's Super Sky Wagon, a single-engine six-place craft.

Some in the North, specified civil rights and a white backlash. Some said they believe this will be less important as an issue by election day.

The normally conservative or Republican voting records of New Hampshire, Vermont, Kansas, Oklahoma and Wyoming are the biggest obstacles seen by party leaders in those states.

California's Jesse Unruh, speaker of the State Assembly, cited another hurdle—organization. He noted: "The Democratic organization is a series of duchies and baronies and California. It takes a series of alliances to get the party moving in the same direction."

Even Arizona Democrats are talking victory. Sam Goddard, former state chairman, now running for governor, said a poll ordered by the Democrats showed Johnson leading 6 to 4 in the home state of Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential nominee.

But the optimism is tempered with caution. Frank Keller, Washington state chairman, says it is "a hard fight and getting harder every day."

Gov. Donald Russell of South Carolina says, "the situation will be close" with Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee, now benefitting from anti-civil rights feeling.

Campaign Not New to Lady Bird

By FRANCES LEWINE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Another campaign is nothing new for Lady Bird Johnson. She's thrived on them for 27 years.

In the nine months she's served as the nation's 32nd First Lady, Mrs. Johnson traveled about 35,000 miles across America, helping to promote the administration of her husband, President Johnson.

She barely paused from official and political travel to get to the convention.

Some idea of the pace she maintains was shown in Mrs. Johnson's recent four-day Western tour in which she kept up an 18-hour-a-day schedule.

At 51, black-haired, brown-eyed Mrs. Johnson continues to have unusual energy and enthusiasm for the tasks of greeting constituents and "people-seeing," as she calls her trips. And, she has a dogged devotion to duty.

One reason for her trips, Mrs. Johnson explains, is that "statistics only come alive when you see the people behind them."

As a political wife, she probably holds the title "best-qualified" from experience alone.

She got a $10,000 advance on her inheritance from her father to back Johnson's first congressional campaign in 1937—and she's been busy backing him ever since.

Catapulted into the White House upon the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, she took on the role of First Lady with the smoothness and ease of long training in Washington ways.

It is generally agreed that not since Eleanor Roosevelt, has a First Lady taken on so much or involved herself so keenly in the husband's projects. Mrs. Johnson also serves as an extra set of eyes and ears to keep the man in the White House informed.

Mrs. Johnson has overcome her own shyness and with some professional help has been perfecting a smooth delivery of speeches, which lately have been taking on a more political tinge.

Her greatest asset is the feeling of genuine warmth and interest that she displays on her trips and visits.

Except that she's busier, being in the White House hasn't changed Mrs. Johnson. She still goes out to the hairdresser instead of having him come in. She manages to shop once in a while without being recognized. And she doesn't mind a bit being seen in the same dress more than once. In fact, she makes a point to say she thinks clothes should serve the person, not the other way around.

She's still in the size 10 she's been for years, weighs about 114 pounds, and keeps that way by dieting when needed, often on prunes and hardboiled eggs.

Mostly Mrs. Johnson prefers not to wear hats, but she conforms at all major functions. Only last week, she took a "stolen moment" with 20-year-old daughter, Lynda, and the two strolled to the nearby Tidal Basin south of the White House and went out in a paddle boat to relax alone.

Because she was born in Texas like her husband, Mrs. Johnson is constantly greeted with the strains of "The Yellow Rose of Texas" and bouquets of yellow roses are presented to her at almost every stop. She usually pauses before she leaves to write a note and send the flowers she can't use on a local hospital or someone needy.

When she signs autographs in crowds, recipients often are surprised to see what she's written. It's "LBJ"—but those are her initials as well as the President's.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Juan P. Arredondo

At 6:30 p.m., Sunday, August 9 in Our Lady of Good Hope Catholic Church Miss Vivian Ruth Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Harrison Ross, became the bride of Juan P. Arredondo, son of Mrs. Amalia Arredondo of Lordsburg, N.M.

Father Joseph Enderlin officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Music was presented by Mrs. Perry Henley, organist, and Miss Ann Ward who sang, "Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast," "Veni Jesu, Amor Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown which had a bodice of clipped lace medallions with an Empire waistline, a scoop neckline, and cap sleeves. The silk organza skirt swept into a chapel train. She wore short white gloves, and her wedding veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls and lace. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and fleur d'amour.

Vows were exchanged in a setting of Southern similar, seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers and baskets of white gladiolus.

Miss Reyes Placencia of Lordsburg, N.M., was the maid of honor and Miss Conchita Arredondo of Lordsburg, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. They were both attired in floor-length aqua gowns of French silk over taffeta with matching coils. Dressed in similar fashion was the junior bridesmaid, Miss Katy McRoy, cousin of the bride. All carried blue and white Denver-tipped carnations.

Scattering white petals on the path of the bride was the flower girl, Miss Patricia Waits. Randy Ross, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Jimmy Arredondo of Lordsburg served as best man. Ushers were Phillip DelVecchio, Jr., Victor Massanelli, Jr., and Jerry Allen of Shreveport, cousin of the bride.

For the wedding Mrs. Ross, mother of the bride, wore cameo pink chiffon with complementary accessories, and Mrs. Arredondo, mother of the groom, wore printed chiffon in soft tones of blue with blending accessories. Each had a gardenia corsage.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds, received their guests in the vestibule of the church.

For the wedding trip the bride wore pink linen with white accessories and pinned pink carnations from her wedding bouquet at her shoulder.

They will reside in Las Vegas, N.M., where Mrs. Arredondo will teach in the junior high school, and her husband will be a student at Highland University.

"DEAR ABBY"

CURB HIM!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: It is bad enough to live in a neighborhood where there are several dogs and cats, but my husband is just as bad. When one of these dogs starts to bark, my husband barks back and set up a chain of barking that disturbs the whole block. If a cat meows, my husband meows back at them, too. Then the dogs start up and you never heard such a racket. My husband thinks it is funny, but last night I thought the top of my head was going to explode. He is just like a big kid. He says, "well, THEY started it." Have you got any advice for me?

HEAD COMING OFF
Dear Head: If the dogs bark at night, report their owners to your police department. If they bark during the day, report them to the S.P.C.A. If they still bark, muzzle your husband.

Dear Abby: Is it considered good taste to send a wedding invitation to relatives who live a great distance from where the wedding will take place, knowing perfectly well that they will not attend the wedding? Please put this in the paper as I would like to settle a difference of opinion.

"PLANNING TO WED"
Dear "Planning": The "planner" should know her own relatives and anticipate their reactions. Some relatives would interpret the invitation as a "notice" that a gift was expected. And if they sent no gift, they would appear cheap. Other relatives would feel "hurt" if they knew a family wedding were taking place and they received no invitation even though they have both kinds of relatives. The trick is to be able to tell which is which.

Dear Abby: What do you think of a daughter who tells her own mother she'll gladly pay to keep her at the finest senior citizens' home (or any where else the mother wants to live), but her psychiatrist advised her against letting her mother continue to live with her? Well, that's the kind of slap in the face I got this morning. I could write a book about how I sacrificed my whole life so this ungrateful child could have the best of both worlds and get the best education. She married a rich man and as everything she wants now. I lost my husband a year ago and have lived with my daughter ever since. We've had disagreements, but nothing serious. She started seeing a psychiatrist and, if you ask me, I think he is only mixing her up, but she thinks he's God. Maybe I should ask the psychiatrist what my daughter has against me. I think she's crazy. What should I do?

CAST-ASIDE MOTHER
Dear Mother: Move out quietly, quickly and without questions. Perhaps if you were to talk to your daughter's doctor you would gain a better understanding of her problem. Since your "whole life" was sacrificed for your daughter, sacrifice a little more and be patient.

Dear Abby: I think you could have done a better job with your answer to that man who complained because a young neighbor boy named Marvin practiced his violin too much. The man said he couldn't close his windows in the summer, and the kid practiced the same piece all summer. You advised, "Either buy yourself some earplugs or buy Marvin a mute."

The neighbor criticized the kid for practicing, the teacher for not giving him a new piece every week, and the parents for letting the kid disturb the neighbors. That man reminds me of the selfish slob who votes NO on all school improvements because HIS kids are already educated and to heck with paying taxes to educate somebody else's. I wish you'd told the old groucher to buy himself an air conditioner and shut up—both his

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Amid all the sound and fury, the oratory and the cheers, two quiet scenes recorded in close-up by the television cameras provided emotion-filled moments on the final anti-climactic day of the Democratic National Convention.

First, around noon on NBC, there was the moment at a reception for Jacqueline Kennedy after some of the late president's favorite prose and poetry had been read movingly by Mr. and Mrs. Fredric March. There was a suggestion of tears, it seemed to this viewer, as the former first lady, in a soft, almost inaudible voice, thanked "all of you who made his shining years possible."

Then, when the convention crowd almost blew off the roof in a 12-minute demonstration, the cameras lingered on the sad face of its object, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. He stood as if alone, looking as one viewer said "like a young boy close to tears."

As if reading minds, NBC's Chet Huntley observed at the end of the demonstration that "each individual must deduce on his own what this means—whether it is his (Kennedy's) own or because he's the symbol of his brother."

Two films occupied considerable time at the convention and on the three networks Thursday night. The first CBS' Eric Sevareid dismissed as "a typical campaign biography" of the presidential candidate, consisting of a batch of film clips narrated in early "March of Time" style. It contrasted sharply with an imaginative well-edited film memoir, "A Thousand Days," of the late President John F. Kennedy, which produced an emotional reaction in the hall—and in millions of homes.

After watching the goings-on, first in San Francisco and then in Atlantic City, one can fairly conclude that television networks are physically, electronically and intellectually capable of the remarkable job of bringing a political convention into the living rooms of the nation.

GM Looking for Wildcat Walkout

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Woodcock, director of the United Auto Workers General Motors department, said today is a possibility that GM's 354,000 production workers might stage wildcat strikes because of unrest over contract negotiations.

Woodcock said there was some unhappiness among GM workers because Chrysler Corp. was picked Wednesday night as the UAW's No. 1 bargaining target.

The 300 members of the UAW GM council were summoned to a Saturday meeting in Detroit at which, Woodcock said, he would explain to the rank and file the reasons which led the UAW to pick Chrysler.

"There are some very sharp feelings among our people and some of them wonder why Sept. 9 was picked as the extension

Acceptance Speech Called Isolationist

By WALTER R. MEARS
NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater today labeled President Johnson's speech accepting the Democratic nomination "a clear withdrawal from leadership in international affairs."

"It was perhaps the most isolationist acceptance speech in modern American history," the vacationing Goldwater said in a statement distributed to newsmen by press secretary Paul F. Wagner.

Wagner said Goldwater did not hear the broadcast of Johnson's acceptance in Atlantic City, N.J. Instead, the press secretary said, he read Goldwater the text of the speech over ship to shore telephone this morning.

Goldwater and his wife are cruising near Santa Cruz Island as if alone, looking as one viewer said "like a young boy close to tears."

Goldwater said Johnson's speech did not "mention directly the challenge of communism or the many brush fire conflicts that communism has ignited around the world."

"Not once did it go to the heart of the problems that are splitting our alliances apart, putting this nation every day, on the brink of crisis," Goldwater said.

Workers Vote Against Union

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP)—Employees of the wood products division of Singer Co. here voted 663-335 against representation by Local 2705 of the Carpenters Union Thursday.

About 1,100 of Singer's 2,000 employees voted in the election. The union challenged 112 votes, the company challenged five, and National Labor Relations Board examiners voided five votes.

The company manufactures all the cabinets for Singer sewing machines sold in the United States.

Taylor Delays Return to U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor has postponed his return to Washington from South Vietnam in order to keep in close personal touch with the continuing political crisis at Saigon, the State Department said today, adding that the postponement is temporary. It said Taylor is expected to return to report to President Johnson on the progress of the anti-Communist struggle in which the United States is heavily involved, with almost 20,000 officers and men in South Vietnam.

He said that GM and the UAW continued negotiations Thursday at various cities on a plant level, some GM officials chided the unionists as to why they had not taken on GM and had asked "Is GM too big for you guys?"

Woodcock's comments to newsmen came as he entered the meeting room where the UAW president, Walter P. Reuther and the Chrysler UAW council were planning their next move.

Ford agreed in principle Thursday to extension of its current contract with the UAW until Sept. 9. Normally, the three-year-old pact would expire Monday night.

Reuther said Chrysler, Ford and General Motors Corp. would be asked to extend their contracts to the strike deadline.

Thought For The Day:

The greatest results in life are usually attained by simple means and the exercise of ordinary qualities. These may for the most part be summed up in these two common sense and perseverance. — Feltham said it.

Calendar Of Events

The Usher Board of the Bee-Bee Memorial C.M.E. Church will sponsor a Tea at the home of Mrs. Walter Joe Sunday. August 30, from 4 till 6 p.m. Admission: 25 cents. Mrs. Gertrude Douglas, reporter.

The swimming pool at Hope City Park will close Sunday, August 30th, according to George Stroughter.

Coming & Going

Miss Gwendolyn Doris Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Jr., returned home after spending her vacation in Los Angeles and Oakland, California.

She left Hope Thursday, August 27, for Green Lake, Wisconsin where she is one of fourteen delegates from Bishop College to the Baptist Student Movement Conference. The meeting will convene from August 29 - September 3.

Mrs. Addie Hayden, Mrs. Sheryl Jones and daughter, Jennifer, Mrs. Alice Moore and children Rubin and Geraldine have returned to their home in Dallas, Texas after spending several days with Mrs. Priscilla Dennis, Mrs. Helan Allen and Mrs. Onzie Loudermilk and families.

Democrats Set Up Win Headquarters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Tim Shea, an Air Force Reserve colonel, announced Thursday that he had established here a headquarters for "Democrats for Rockefeller."

Shea said he would pay two persons to staff the office. He said he hoped to obtain more help from volunteers.

He said he wanted to help elect Winthrop Rockefeller as governor in the Nov. 3 election because Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been in office 10 years.

"We have to break his (Faubus) hold now or never," Shea said.

Shea said he was for Rockefeller because he had a chance to defeat Faubus.

"If we had a respectable Democrat running, he'd get all my support," Shea said. "If Faubus loses and a respectable Democrat runs against Rockefeller in 1966, I'll jump on the Democrat's back. I'll be for him all the way."

Cheerleaders Make Hit With Win

MINERAL SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) - Six high school cheerleaders linked hands in the rain and halted Winthrop Rockefeller's campaign bus here Wednesday.

Then they cut loose with special cheers that had developed to boost the Republican's bid for governor.

Rockefeller left the bus and greeted the girls, then invited them to his January inauguration, if he wins the Nov. 3 election. Gov. Orval E. Faubus is his opponent.

THE STORY: After a run-in with Alex, Jupe Cotten's second, Frank Ives is accepted by Jupe Cotten's ruffian band.

He stopped to think back. "Sam, after he got the badge, found other folks to put in his time with. His place at our feed trough didn't get used for weeks on end. We heard some pretty wild stories, but paw never judged a man on talk. Reckon Sam's feelin' his oats," he'd say, "but he'll settle into it."

"Yes, he gave me to understand," Ives said, "all the Cotten property was under the Court's jurisdiction."

"Ha!" Jupe snorted, fiercely scowling. "That's him, all right. Legal when it suits his book! He tell you who the court put in charge? Him! Him an' that bunch of gummies he calls deputies—put us right out in the street, they did! Warned off our crew, jailed them that wouldn't scare, went to workin' like a beaver to tie a cat to my tail—you'll see his doggers if you look, he's got the whole country plastered! Five hundred smackers, dead or alive on my head!"

Frank Ives sighed and rasped a hand across his cheek. "What you figure to do now you've beat Renwick's outfit off for the moment?"

"Trail these critters to some place where I kin sell 'em," Ives said. "That's a fool's game," Ives said. "You'll wind up shot or danglin' from some wagon tongue."

"Whoever tries it'll dang sure know he's been in a fracas!"

"And what about the girl? Next time, maybe, she won't be so lucky."

Jupe said, bristling: She wouldn't have it no other way! But it bothered him enough that he climbed into the saddle and sent his horse tearing off toward the herd.

Jupe himself returned about the time Ives was swabbing the juice from his plate, the others going off to relieve the men on circle. Jupe, heaping a tin, hunkered down beside Ives.

"You was right, I reckon to call this a fool's game, but what else could I do? Candy's said the same thing," he acknowledged, fishing an ant from his beard. "I'm no slouch with a gun, but I ain't up to bracin' Renwick long's I kin find any roomier way of gittin' back at that Judas."

"How was your pappy killed?" Ives asked.

"We ain't rightly sure he actually was killed, though I reckon there ain't no doubt he was killed otherwise. Happened six months back. He was ridin' the mail coach back from Yuma along with a payroll for the Sheep Mountain Mine. Three masked gun-wavers stopped the stage at Telegraph Pass; made Ben

Jupe grinned sourly when Ives looking up, passed back the flyer.

Ives said, frowning, "You must have been with somebody while that stage was being stuck up."

"Sure Couple of the Turtle Crew. We was fixin' the mill at Baker Peaks southeast of the Pass, not five miles from a trail that snakes up to the Yuma road. Better look at a map."

And, to Ives' blank stare, he showed a twisted grin. "Ain't 15 miles from where we was to where that stage took the final plunge. With a relay of hosses—"

"Speaking of stealing," Ives mentioned, "I take it you figure Renwick's after your spread."

"You call up a better reason fer doin' a man like he done me?" Jupe scowled and spat.

The Basic Side

IT'S that time again... the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheaties, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .
